

Hunt Library Resources & Services - Worldwide

Welcome to the Hunt Library--your library, anytime, anywhere. The Hunt Library is located on the Daytona Beach Campus of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University and is the library for both Daytona Beach and Worldwide students, faculty, and staff. The entire Hunt Library collection is available to you through our document delivery service, library materials provided to your campus, and the Hunt Library's website.

RESOURCES AT YOUR CAMPUS

Books from the Riddle Aviation Collection

The Riddle Aviation Collection (RAC) is an assortment of relevant aviation/aerospace-related reference resources such as supplemental course materials, general reference works, conference proceedings, and regulatory information related to the aviation industry. Your campus staff can provide you with the location of the RAC. A complete list of your campus RAC is available at: <http://library.erau.edu> > Embry-Riddle Worldwide > Find Information > Find Books > Riddle Aviation Collection (RAC)

Magazines Related to Aviation/Aerospace

The Hunt Library subscribes to and maintains a collection of selected magazines suitable for browsing and research at each campus location. Check with your campus staff for the location of these titles.

RESOURCES FROM THE HUNT LIBRARY

Research Assistance

The Hunt Library offers email and telephone reference assistance for Embry-Riddle Worldwide and Worldwide Online students, faculty, and staff through our Ask a Librarian service. By contacting a Hunt Library Reference Librarian, you can obtain assistance with forming a search strategy, resource recommendations, and documents or books delivered through the postal service or electronic delivery. By using this service, you have access to the entire Hunt Library just as if you were in Daytona Beach.

Collections

The Hunt Library's complete collection of books, documents, technical reports, conference literature, government documents, industry reports, magazines, journals, and trade publications as well as online full-text resources are available to you. Reference Librarians can help you determine which resources will meet your specific needs.

Website: <http://library.erau.edu/worldwide/>

The Hunt Library's website is designed to help you find information, learn about services, and get help through a variety of options. Click on Help to find links to our FAQs, instructional brochures, Library Guides, and other resources useful to anyone conducting research.

Library Instruction through Library Basic Training

Library Basic Training is an interactive set of short course modules that will familiarize you with the library's services. Modules include an Introduction to the Hunt Library, instructions for using our online catalog to find books, and a lesson on accessing our collection of online databases for finding magazine articles and other data. Sign up for the course by following the instructions at <http://library.erau.edu> > Embry-Riddle Worldwide > Help > Library Basic Training.
